

California Proposition 65

To whom it may concern:

Racks Inc primarily manufactures custom point of sales display fixtures used to display consumer products, as well as other metal, wood & acrylic products.

Racks Inc represents and warrants that it does not and shall not supply any materials to our customers or their affiliates that are known to us, after conducting an appropriate level of due diligence, to contain any chemicals on the Prop 65 List in amounts that could be expected to expose consumers to levels of chemicals that OEHHA has determined require a warning disclosure under prop 65.

Many Racks Inc metal products are finished with powder coatings formulated with titanium dioxide (white pigment), 2-methylimidazole, 1,3,5- triglycidyl isocyanurate, carbon black (black pigment) and quartz (SiO₂) (Quartz-crystalline silica), which are listed on the California Proposition 65 list of Chemicals Known to the State of California to cause cancer or reproductive toxicity. These materials must be present in respirable form to be considered hazardous. They are not present in all powder coating but are in the vast majority of it. These materials have all been physically bound into the powder coating during processing and do not pose an inhalation risk.

Racks Inc graphics are printed using ink which may be formulated with carbon black and Benzophenone, which are listed on the California Proposition 65 list of Chemicals Known to the State of California to cause cancer or reproductive toxicity. These materials must be present in respirable form to be considered hazardous. They are not present in all ink, but are in the majority of inks. According to the manufacturers, the trace amounts of the substances which may be present in our printed graphics comply with California Safe Harbor requirements and do not pose any health risk.

As such there is no risk of cancer or reproductive toxicity from normal use of our products and we believe based on reasonable due diligence that no warning label is necessary.

Normal use of our product is as a store fixture. Uses excluded from normal use of our products are: consuming, ingesting, smoking, burning, or serving ingestible items directly off of our products. Such use may expose consumers to the chemicals listed above, and may be hazardous.

Corey Wall

COO

Racks Inc